

Satellite communications Course Outcomes

At the end of the course a student will be able to:

CO1: Understand an overall view on the different aspects concerning the satellite on a communication communication system.

CO2: Understand the different types of satellite orbits.

CO3: Understand the different types of satellite communication system