

IMPORTANCE OF CODING AND GENAI PROFICIENCY

Date: 22 Jan 2026

Resource Persons: Mr. Vinay Singh, Director, Litwork

On January 22, 2026, HITAM organized an interactive session for 3rd-year students on the vital role of coding proficiency and GenAI skills. Mr. Vinay Singh, Director of Litwork and a 2012 HITAM alumnus, addressed about 600 attendees, emphasizing their necessity for career success.

Vinay introduced Litwork's Coding Enhancement Program, aligned with industry needs. It covers advanced topics like arrays, strings, sorting, stacks, queues, recursion, trees, graphs, and greedy algorithms, bridging classroom learning to real-world demands.

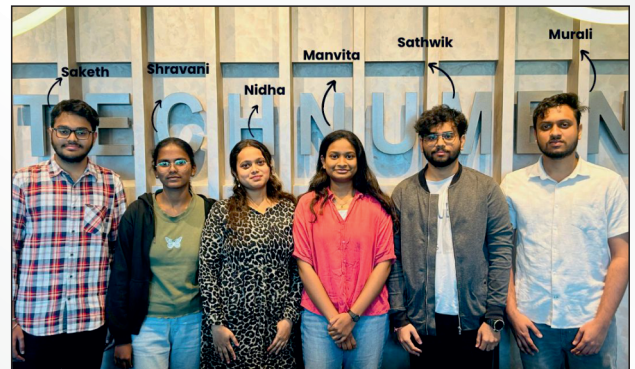

Vinay highlighted how Coding proficiency sharpens problem-solving speed for platforms like HackerRank, enhancing technical interview performance at IT giants. He also focused on how GenAI mastery accelerates tasks like data analysis and prototyping, aligning with current hiring trends focused on AI efficiency. Around 300 students expressed interest in enrolling for the program.

TECHNUMEN LIVE INDUSTRY PROJECT

A group of six HITAM students joined Technumen for an internship program focused on Artificial Intelligence. During this internship, the students will gain practical exposure to real-time project development, collaborative teamwork, and the professional work environment of a dynamic tech company.

This partnership underscores HITAM's continued efforts to provide its students with meaningful industry engagement and experiential learning opportunities that complement their academic journey. The institute extends its best wishes to the interns for a successful and enriching experience at Technumen.

INDUSTRY VISIT TO GALACTIX BY PROJECT INTERNS

Galactix Solutions Pvt. Ltd. warmly welcomed the project interns from KodeMi Labs, Hyderabad Institute of Technology and Management (HITAM) for an engaging and insightful industry visit on 25 February 2026. Around 20 interns participated in this immersive experience aimed at bridging academic learning with real-world industry exposure.

The day was filled with meaningful interactions, knowledge sharing, and inspiring conversations. The Galactix team introduced the interns to their work culture, ongoing projects, and operational practices, offering valuable insights into how a technology-driven company functions. The enthusiastic students actively participated in various fun and learning activities organized by the Head of Operations and Head of Human Resources, making the visit both educational and enjoyable.

Galactix Solutions expressed appreciation to the faculty and students of HITAM for their active participation and emphasized the importance of such academic-industry collaborations in nurturing future-ready professionals
